Visit LaSalle Park Neighborhood on the Ten Toe Express

TOTAL WALK DISTANCE: 1 mile

This neighborhood near Soulard between LaSalle Street and Park Ave. was created by urban renewal in the 1980s. Within this neighborhood is a restored mid-19th century subdivision unknown to most motorists. A mile-long walk will acquaint you with this secret place.

Note: If you make this trip on a Wednesday, be sure to bring some extra money so you can enjoy a delicious lunch at St. Raymond, the Lebanese church.

Directions:

- Take MetroLink to the Convention Center Station.
- Board#40 Broadway southbound from Convention Center
- Exit the bus at Lebanon Drive.
- Walk west two blocks, then turn south on 9th Street.
- Weave your way with a left on Hickory, a right on 9th Street, and then a right again on Morrison.
- At the end of Morrison, turn left on 10th Street, and then left again on Rutger.
- At the end of Rutger, turn right on 9th Street, and then right again on Park.
- Walk west on Park one block, then turn right on 10th Street - a brick street with no cars allowed!
- Return to Hickory from 10th Street, crossing a small park, and retrace your steps to Lebanon Drive
- Return to MetroLink on #40 southbound.

LaSalle Park Neighborhood